Sakura Space is set in the distant future of a post-post-apocalyptic space where the world is about to end. The solar storm that has left everyone stranded on the planet is about to end when a spaceship appears above the Earth's horizon. It's the USS Satori, a spaceship piloted by Captain Shika. She's been called on a mission by a controversial person called the Grand Sage. She's going to be sent on a group of dangerous jobs, but nothing has prepared her for this: it has nothing to do with space pirates and everything to do with alien life. There's even an alien bounty hunter on board... The Bangomaru story goes back to a time of war and many people died in a mysterious plague. The world is still in a high turmoil but there is peace in the country of Bangomaru. When the country is suffering from a fresh earthquake, as a sacrifice to save the land, the priestess will have a single wish: she's a dragon with a beautiful body, a simple dragon, and the people's spirit and hope will be in her. This is the story of bangomaru and his people. Based on the manga original by author Kawahara Yuki, with illustration by the Hitotsubashi University group that also managed the animation. Genre(s): Fantasy Finnish Dive into the stark dream world of Ink and blood where people are not ordinary and demons dwell beneath the ground. At the center of the world of ink is a city known as Gyo who is said to be able to bestow its inhabitants with new powers. About The Game Ink: From the twisted atmosphere of the world of ink and the beauty of its people, comes a tale of a mysterious girl with the ability to learn the powers of all of the colors in the world. One day, she will be called upon to help by a young man in Gyo whose wish is to see the people of the world inked and stained with ink. With this power, he will be able to see the way they live, see through their personal desires, and save their minds. Based on the manga original by author Ohnogi Riichi, with illustration by the Satomi Gumi who also manages the animation. Genre(s): Fantasy, Comedy, Action, Adventure, Fantasy, Slice of Life, Ecchi, Ecchi The adventures of the legendary prince of the land known as Dashka as

How To Play Games Workshop is known for creating the best boardgames the world over and bringing amazing boardgames to Mac and iOS. However, unlike the Mac games they've created, Tower Defense has always been a PC title. It was only in 2014 that they made their first Mac game - the well-received Desert Defense. But now, they take another risk with PolyDefense. For the first time, they're creating their own Mac version of Tower Defense and not just a clone. Just like Tower Defense's PC version, Poly Defense's Mac version will have awesome music, a nicely drawn 2D graphic style, and 20 intense levels that will test your knowledge and your judgement, turning each round of battle into an action-packed, one-on-one duel. Reviewsto match the updated graphics style, the newly designed areas allow for the game to feel more bigger, the characters to look more detailed and the game play to become more fluid and action-oriented. On top of that, the game features a brand new combat system, improved controls, achievements, and a new mini-game!Releases in 2019 a new addition to the fast paced crime fest, starring many of the artists from Gun Spike Games, Sin City Sinners, was developed by a small team of experienced developers and artists. It's an open world, sandbox, crime funfest with multiple objectives. In this game you play as a skilled bounty hunter, without a gun you can't complete your missions. You have to use your head to do some serious thinking and get things done, face different kinds of crime lords, without losing your temper you need to get through missions to get money and develop your character. While exploring the city you can get accosted by the different challenges and face them, that's when your character get stronger, but only if you win your boss fights. If you are unlucky, you need to use more skills and a different approach to the mission, with the help of the tools like a nano-suit, the hover-suit, a couple of masks, a new shooter, a beanie, a new knife and everything that you get with you. Weapons also got some upgrade options, but the same rules apply here. You can enhance a few weapons and body parts to change them a little and improve them. A fully detailed car system was also added in the game, where you can build your own car, destroy other cars, get drunk and so on.Requirements and hardware: PC Minimum:Windows 7 System:Windows 10, Windows 8, Windows 8.1, Windows Server 2008, Windows Server 2012 or Windows Server 2016RAM: 2 GBIntel Pentium G520 or AMD Athlon FX-6300 Processor CPU: 2.6 GHzGPU: 1 GBNVIDIA Geforce 9800GTx or ATI HD Radeon 4850. stars O2O's Elite training ($400 for group 1&2 and $500 for group 3 & 4)* Class level depends on trainer ability (programmed or doing more training than the trainer can do)Group 1 and 2 get full specialized nose to tail workout which includes massages and stretching. Some exercises take around 10 mins while others can take half hour to an hour per session. This package contains group 1 and 2.Group 3 and 4 get one set of lower body upper body (where the trainer can do the most of the exercises) to supplement trainer workout and warm-ups which takes around 15 mins.- Weekly nutrition consultation with O2O's pharmacist cost $15 per seminar. (No set fee)- Weather dependent training $50 for one week.- Offer is valid only for a specific period (11 months) Price excludes GST. Pay at the gym If you prefer, trainers can do that part of the work for you. You pay $50 for the class and trainer once a month. You pay between $45 to $50 a month. The price is up to $10 less than the 6 hour class. An advantage is that, you have a trainer that is good in "strengthening" and "fitness". The trainer will program and monitor your training for you. You will be given the body parts you want worked. Maybe not the shoulder or arm, but will be given a program that targets your weakness. By "lower body", it means the trainer will work your "gastrocnemius", "quads", "calves", "hamstrings", and "hamstrings". The "upper body" includes the chest, shoulders, and core. So, the trainer will work your glutes, chest, and shoulders. Your focus will be on the areas of your training. If your main training focus is mainly on legs, trainer will not put emphasis on your glutes. And this focus is kept the same for all classes. The other advantage is the trainer can give guidance to achieve correct form while working on your weak areas. The trainer will also show you to keep your balance while doing the exercise. The trainer will apply maximum resistance training with no risk of injury. You can also do a Swiss ball or similar exercises with your trainer. The trainer has more than 20 years experience in the fitness business and is a former fitness competitor. His knowledge in adjusting the style of strength training for different people, and the ability to formulate
